

Priyanka Chopra, Kim Kardashian West rub shoulders and we can't keep calm

A recent Tiffany & Co event witnessed two A-list divas, hitting it off and in fits of laughter. Reality star Kim Kardashian West and superstar Priyanka Chopra were both spotted looking like a dream last night, at the launch of the 2018 Tiffany Blue Book Collection.

The Quantico star donned a grey, sequined dress featuring noodle straps and a side leg slit. Her outfit was complemented with metallic smokey eyes, nude lips and a silver jewellery set as well as her Tiffany ring, of course.

That's it. It's over. I'm done. This is next level iconic □

Kim was garbed in an off-white dress complete with her signature long locks, flawless makeup and a metal choker. The Keeping Up With The Kardashians star shared clips of the event on her Instagram story, where she can be seen posing with Priyanka and others.

It comes as no surprise that fans of both beauties are ecstatic to see them together. Taking to Twitter, said fans expressed their joy. “That’s it. It’s over. I’m done. This is next level iconic,” said one user.
